 - (a) grant the request, in whole or in part, on such terms and conditions as the Attorney-General thinks fit;
 - (b) refuse the request, in whole or in part, on the ground that, in the opinion of the Attorney-General, to grant the request would be likely to prejudice the sovereignty, security or other essential or public interest of the RMI or would result in manifest unfairness or a denial of human rights, or it is otherwise appropriate in all circumstances of the case, that the assistance requested should not be granted, in whole or in part; or
 - (c) after consulting with the competent authority of the foreign State, postpone the request, in whole or in part, on the ground that granting the request immediately would be likely to prejudice the conduct of an investigation or proceeding in the RMI.
- (2) A request may be granted under subsection (1) notwithstanding the absence of dual criminality if the assistance does not involve coercive actions. In the case of coercive actions, dual criminality is deemed satisfied regardless of whether both countries place the offense within the same category of offense, or denominate the offense by the same terminology, provided that both countries criminalize the conduct underlying of offense.[P.L. 2002-67, §10.][§2 is inserted as new]

§410. Foreign requests for evidence gathering order or a search warrant.

 - (b) evidence relating to that offense may:
 - (i) be found in a building, receptacle or place in the RMI; or
 - (ii) Be able to be given a by a person believed to be in the RMI;
 - (c) in the case of an application for a search warrant, it would not, in all the circumstances, be more appropriate to grant an evidence-gathering order.
- (3) For the purposes of subsection (2) (a), a statement contained in the foreign request to the effect that a serious offense has been or may have been committed against the law of the foreign State is prima facie evidence of that fact.
- (4) An evidence-gathering order:
- (a) shall provide for the manner in which the evidence is to be obtained in order to give proper effect to the foreign request, unless such manner is prohibited under the law of the RMI, and in particular, may require any person named therein to:

 - (ii) attend court to give evidence on oath or otherwise until excused;
 - (iii) produce to the High Court or to any person designated by the Court, any thing, including any document, or copy thereof, or

- (a) a law currently in force in the RMI;

- (b) a privilege recognized by a law in force in the foreign country that made the request; or
 - (c) a law currently in force in the foreign country that would render the answering of that question or the production of that document or thing by that person in the person's own jurisdiction an offense.
- (6) Where a person refuses to answer a question or to produce a document or thing pursuant to subsection (5)(b) or(c), the High Court shall report the matter to the Attorney-General who shall notify the foreign country and request the foreign country to provide a written statement on whether the person's refusal was well-founded under the law of the foreign country.
- (7) Any written statement received by the Attorney-General from the foreign country in response to a request under subsection (6) shall be admissible in the evidence- gathering proceedings, and for the purposes of this section be determinative of whether the persons refusal is well-founded under foreign law.
- (8) A person who, without reasonable excuse, refuses to comply with a lawful order of the High Court made under this section, or who having refused pursuant to subsection (5), continues to refuse notwithstanding the admission into evidence of a statement under subsection (7) to the effect that the refusal not well-founded, commits a contempt of court and may be punished accordingly.
- (9) A search warrant shall be in the usual form in which a search warrant is issued in the RMI, varied to the extent necessary to suit the case.
- (10) No document or thing seized and ordered to be sent to a foreign State shall be sent until the Attorney-General is satisfied that the foreign State has agreed to comply with any terms or conditions imposed in respect of the sending abroad of the document or thing.
- (11) The High Court shall be authorized to adopt, recognize and enforce foreign court orders certified under seal, which orders shall be presumed to be valid in the absence of any evidence to the contrary.

- (2) The High Court upon application made under subsection (1) may make a transfer order under this subsection where it is satisfied, having considered any documents filed or information given in support of the application, that the detained person consents to the transfer.
- (3) A transfer order made under subsection (2):
 - (a) shall set out the name of the detained person and the person's current place of confinement;
 - (b) shall order the person who has custody of the detained person to deliver the detained person into the custody of a person who is designated in the order or who is a member of the class of persons so designated;
 - (c) shall order the person who is to take custody of the detained person, to take the detained person to the foreign country and, on return of the detained person to the RMI, to return that person to a place of confinement in the RMI specified in the order, or to such other place of confinement as the Attorney-General may subsequently notify the foreign country;
 - (d) shall state the reasons for the transfer; and
 - (e) shall fix the period of time at or before The expiration of which the detained person must be returned, unless varied for the purposes of the request by the Attorney-General.
- (4) The time spent in custody by a person pursuant to a transfer order shall count toward any sentence required to be served by that person, so long as the person remains in such custody and is of good behavior. [P.L. 2002-67, §12.]

- (4) Any person who escapes from lawful custody while in the RMI pursuant to a request under section 407(6) may be arrested without warrant by any authorized person and returned to the custody authorized under subsection (1)(a) of this section.
- (5) Where a foreign country has requested that a person be detained in the RMI in the course of transit between the foreign country and a third country and the Attorney-General grants the request, the provisions of this section shall apply with necessary changes in points of detail in relation to that person.
- (6) No court in the RMI has jurisdiction to entertain any application by or on behalf of any person in the RMI pursuant to a request under section 407(6) relating to release from custody or continued presence in the RMI after his or her presence is no longer required for the purpose of the request. [P.L. 2002-67, §13.]

§413. Safe conduct guarantee.
